ASTTBC Members Called to Volunteer for an Operational Efficiency & Services Review in a Regional District

TeamWorks is an innovative program that provides British Columbia's local governments with access to additional, specialized resources to help solve challenging problems. Designed to enhance the informal partnership programs that exist within local government in BC, TeamWorks allows local governments to seek and provide assistance, and share resources. The experience of combining the user and the resource provider together in a hands-on environment not only helps to efficiently solve problems, but will provide unique leadership and training opportunities.

A Reference Group of Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) from a range of disciplines is sought to assist a Regional District complete an operational efficiency and services review. Reference Group SMEs will provide advisory services as part of the core services review, with a particular emphasis on bringing best practice experience to assist the RD in determining service gaps or service improvements. Teamworks is reaching out to ASTTBC Members to volunteer their knowledge and experience for this endeavour.

Refer to the Terms of Reference for the specialized skills being sought for the SMEs.

If you have the expertise and are interested in supporting the Reference Group as an SME, please send along a letter (please attach your c.v.) outlining your experience, areas of specialized interest and how you believe you can support the core service review in an advisory capacity to: pthorkelsson@rdn.bc.ca

Volunteer SME letters of interest will be accepted until January 15, 2014.

Please contact Paul Thorkelsson for further information at pthorkelsson@rdn.bc.ca
