

FortisBC Plans LNG Expansion in Delta

Business in Vancouver Magazine reports that FortisBC hopes to proceed with expansion to the Tilbury Island facility. "ASTTBC tracks key corporate decisions such as this as part of our effort to stay on top of technology careers and skills needs," said ASTTBC Executive Director John Leech. "It is obvious that the development of LNG in BC means new economic growth and development and with it more technology jobs and this will have implications for ASTTBC as a professional regulator and lead organization enhancing awareness of technology education and careers."

ASTTBC has been proactively addressing the skills shortage in a number of ways, including by engaging Internationally Trained Technology Professionals through a number of initiatives, encouraging more women and girls to consider technology careers and expanding awareness of career opportunities with First Nations.

READ MORE from Business in Vancouver.