

ACEC-BC President & CEO and ASTTBC CEO Ham it Up at Transportation Conference

Keith Sashaw, President and CEO for the Association of Consulting Engineering Companies BC (ACEC-BC) (behind the car) and ASTTBC CEO John Leech (in the driver's seat!) connected at the 2014 ACEC-BC Transportation Conference. They are pictured with the UBC Mechanical Engineering student's fuel-efficient vehicle that has competed in the Supermileage competition.

According to UBC students in attendance the Supermileage is a competition that provides engineering and technology students with a design project that involves the development of a single person fuel efficient vehicle or a four wheeled concept car. Students have the opportunity to set a world record for fuel economy and sustainability. Learn MORE
