ASTTBC sponsored the Environmental Performance Award at the 2014 Wood Design Awards in BC. ASTTBC Chief Executive Officer John Leech, AScT, CAE, was on hand to present the award to recipient John Wall, Principal Architect, Public Design, for his project Centennial Beach Boundary Bay Regional Park Pavilion in Delta, BC.

The award recognizes how wood products played a significant role in improving the overall environmental performance of a structure. Projects nominated for this award must demonstrate that through the deliberate use of wood from the outset, the wood products were integral in achieving a measurable lower environmental impact such as lower carbon footprint, reduced energy use, less pollution and higher efficiency.
