

ASTTBC Offers Awards for Best “Green” BC Projects, Design

The Applied Science Technologists & Technicians of British Columbia is looking for leaders in designing and building environmentally-positive, ‘green’ projects.

Representing 10,000 BC technology professionals, ASTTBC is calling nominations for 2013 TechGREEN Awards that recognize excellence in designing and building projects or bringing environmental benefit and sustainability. Nominations are open until March 15th in three distinct classes: Individual, Organization and Business.

“We created TechGREEN Awards four years ago, for individuals, corporations and organizations that make a positive impact on green living, sustainable best practices, energy conservation and environmental benefit,” explains ASTTBC Executive Director John Leech, AScT, CAE. “Their purpose is to promote excellence in design and building, and to shine the spotlight on the engineering and affiliated teams, in which ASTTBC members work.”

Detailed criteria and online nomination forms are posted on the ASTTBC website:

<http://www.asttbc.org/about/awards/nominations.php> The 2013 TechGREEN Awards will be presented at the 25th annual ASTTBC Technology Awards & Recognition Celebration in Vancouver, this November.

2012 TechGREEN Awards were won by Victoria designer Alex Zimmerman, Richmond concrete products firm United Lock-Block, and the City of Nanaimo.

– END –

About ASTTBC...

Established in 1958, the Applied Science Technologists & Technicians of British Columbia is the voice of Technology Professionals in the province. ASTTBC is focused on achieving professional recognition for technologists, technicians and technical specialists. The Association’s mission: “To serve the public by regulating and supporting Technology Professionals’ commitment to a safe, healthy and sustainable society and environment.”

For more information...

ASTTBC | 10767 – 148th Street, Surrey, BC V3R 0S4 | TEL: 604.585.2788 | FAX: 604.585.2790
EMAIL: techinfo@asttbc.org or visit... www.asttbc.org