

April, 2011

John Leech on B100 in Kamloops

ASTTBC's Executive Director, John Leech, and Big Little Science Centre Executive Director, Gord Stewart, sat in on the B100 radio program on March 23 in Kamloops. Hosts Cheryl Blackwell and Steve Ayres sat on the edge of their seats waiting to see what marvel Gord would unearth to showcase science and technology. From hot air (not Steve's and Cheryl's) Gord made a one meter long solid steel pipe sing a note or two and John put out his own hot air as he promoted technology education and careers. John mentioned the need for youth to stick with math, science and technology in K-12 and of the post-secondary options including Architectural & Engineering Technology program at Thompson River University. John also mentioned ASTTBC's financial support of Big Little.

For the brief interview go to: <http://www.asttbc.org/docs/blsckamloopsmarch.mp3>

Cheryl, Steve, Gord and John ham it up after the interview. For the photo go to:

<http://www.asttbc.org/docs/kamloopsmarch.JPG>