

Kerplunks Music Video “Good Question” Unveiled at 2014 TARC

See what happens when two kids accidentally shrink the Kerplunks and must find a way to un-shrink them, using hands-on inventions. This ASTTBC-commissioned music video “Good Question” is about the basis of science -asking a good question and finding a good answer!

"The new Kerplunks video showcases general elements of engineering technology in a fun way," said ASTTBC CEO John Leech, AScT. "This is the third in a series of videos (“Technology” followed by “Everyday Science”) designed to draw attention to careers in technology. At a high level we are promoting STEM-Science, Technology, Engineering and Math."
