ASTTBC Changes Name and Logo for Property Inspectors

The BC Institute of Property Inspectors (BCIPI) has served a very useful purpose; however, it also created confusion for the public and others regarding the role of ASTTBC and of BCIPI.

The ASTTBC Council has now approved a new name - ASTTBC-Property Inspectors. The new logo retains much of the BCIPI logo including design and colours. "This new approach will eliminate most of the confusion that came with two separate organizations involved with certification (ASTTBC) and on the other side, promotion and member services (BCIPI)," said Executive Director John Leech. "We appreciate the leadership of the steering committee leading efforts on behalf of house and property inspectors and also that of Peter Link, Manager."
