

ASTTBC President Hosts Council Update Webinar

The topics for the recent ASTTBC Council Update Webinar ranged from PTech implementation in BC to mandatory reporting of CPD. Professional standards and accountability are KEY issues for ASTTBC as it looks to further enhance the Association's mandate as a self-governing professional association. Incorporated under the ASTT Act and Regulations to serve and protect the public interest by providing professional certification and registration for technologists, technicians and technical specialists, ASTTBC Council has asked staff to direct greater resources to professional regulation and accountability.

"ASTTBC-registered technology professionals make an important contribution to the growth and development of BC's economy and protection of health, safety and the environment," said President Dave Rutherford, AScT, BCLS, CLS. "The ASTTBC Council Update Webinar gives me, as Council President, the opportunity to update members on a number of key elements of ASTTBC's work."
