ASTTBC Seeks Changes to House Inspection Regulation Vernon Daily Courier Reports

ASTTBC is seeking changes to the Regulation governing the licensing of House Inspectors. Local media throughout BC is seeking comment and ASTTBC's Executive Director, John Leech, has been interviewed. ASTTBC is available to speak to media because of recent reports in which it has been suggested that poor inspections led to added costs to consumers.

ASTTBC wishes to make sure that the Association's good name and reputation and high standards for certification and professional accountability are not inappropriately captured within general expressions of concern. The Vernon Daily Courier published a brief report on this matter.
