

Civil Engineering Technologist

Onsite Engineering Ltd. is seeking a full time Intermediate/Senior Civil Technologist to work in our Abbotsford office. The successful candidate will be involved in municipal projects and will possess a strong background working with municipalities through a motivated and dynamic team of professionals.

Role

- Preparing engineering drawings for municipal and land development projects
- Coordinating project drawings and reports
- Surveying (total station and GPS)
- Site inspection
- Project management and contract administration

Skills Required

Successful applicants will participate in the provision of engineering services from proposal stage through planning, design, construction and commissioning of projects such as:

- Water distribution and supply, storage, pumping, etc.
- Sanitary sewer collection, pump stations, and forcemains
- Road design

Qualifications

- Diploma in Civil Engineering Technology
- Minimum 7 years experience in a design or project management role within a municipality and/or consulting engineering environment
- Proficient in the use of AutoCAD Civil 3D
- Experience with storm-water and water distribution modeling is an asset
- Self-motivated with strong interpersonal and communication skills

About Onsite

Onsite is an innovative company with a growing team that take pride in managing and coordinating the delivery of quality engineering services for governmental, private, and industrial clients throughout British Columbia. We offer a competitive salary and benefits package, flexible work hours and location, and the opportunity to be part of an “up and coming” player in BC’s municipal engineering market.

Email resumes to: jmcallister@onsite-eng.ca